Hello there

It's Louise here, from Creative Beaute.

The headline above is designed to get your attention, and I hope it did, because I need to share something with you that is so important I couldn't wait till the next time you came into your salon.

(Everything contained in the headline is absolutely correct - yes, including the bonus take home products - and the reason I'm so confident I can offer all this is because of something new we've discovered here at the salon. But more on that in a moment.)

First, please take a second to look at your hands - or even better, look in the mirror. What you're seeing is something that's at once very familiar, and at the same time, very mysterious.

You see, your skin is the body's largest organ - a living, breathing thing that helps protect us from the ravages of sun, wind and rain.

But that's just the start.

In fact, to be honest, our skin plays a MAJOR role in deciding how our friends and loved ones see us!

Yes, there is a VERY good reason why hundreds of thousands of women spend literally BILLIONS of dollars every year on their skin care.

And for decades, there's only really been TWO ways - never-ending application of lotions and creams, or harsh dermabrasion treatment - to make your skin look younger, healthier, more supple and elastic.

Only two ways, until Now!

Recently, after years of research, science discovered the amazing effect that IPL has on the skin. In fact, it has been PROVEN to remove

Fine lines Wrinkles
Pigmentation

As well as stimulate the body's own production of collagen. Imagine that... having skin that looks and feels plumped and taut, without even going near a needle or suffering the after-effects that artificially-injected collagen can cause!

Now to the news I've been bursting to share with you...

Creative Beaute has recently acquired a special machine called an

INTENSE LIGHT

Our brand VPL machine is now ready to revive your skin the way ONLY VPL can do, delivering a totally natural method of light-only skin rejuvenation that works with the body's own natural processes to counteract the effects of ageing.

How VPL Works

1. The light affects a group of cells called mast cells at a cellular level. The light causes these cells to release other cellular products. These products have the effect of dilating (or opening up) skin capillary blood vessels. The dilation of these blood vessels leads to an increase in blood flow. An increase in blood flow carries more oxygen and nutrients to the skin.
2. Cellular products released from mast cells also has an effect of strengthening supporting networks. Imagine collagen as a rope. As collagen ages the (rope) begins to unfurl and weakens as a supporting structure. Cellular products released through the action of the light form a supportive structure within collagen, thus providing a supporting matrix. Furthermore they promote the rehydration of the skin and supportive mechanisms.

VPL therapies are, non-invasive with no recovery time and because the light does not generate heat it will not burn your skin. The treatment is completely safe.

VPL harnesses the power of light therapy, the origins of which stem back to ancient times. The Greeks first recorded the healing properties of light in 1500BC, when they suggested that exposure to light (heliotherapy) was essential for the restoration of health.

We are all influenced by the power of light.

- Think about how you feel on a warm sunny day;

Here's what people are saying about VPL:

"The treatment is light years ahead of its time in relation to the relaxation benefits. As a result of the treatment, my skin looks radiant, tighter, the lines around my eyes look less obvious and I find that I use less make-up."

Caroline Adams

"Since having VPL my face looks brighter, fresher, smoother and generally more radiant. The treatment is a great pick-me-up."

Hazel Potts

- Think about the first warm days of the summer compared to those cold, dark nights and bleak, short days of winter.

The benefits of light on the human body and mind have long been recognised in the medical arena. Years of research at the Paterson Institute for Cancer Research led to the production of a pure red light source that, when combined with a cream, would kill certain types of skin cancer cells.

During this work scientists observed that the light on its own had a stimulating effect on cell and tissue regeneration which greatly improved the appearance of the skin. This observation has led to the development of VPL.

VPL delivers pure, non-laser, narrow-band red light which is safer than daylight because there is no harmful UV and Infrared output.

6 Amazing Benefits of IPL

Benefit #1:

After VPL treatment, your skin will feel 'plumped up'

Benefit #2:

Your makeup will go on better because your treatment has given it a better 'canvas'

Benefit #3:

If you have uneven pigmentation, this will disappear after a treatment course with VPL, leaving your skin smooth and blemish-free

Benefit #4:

You will notice an immediate improvement in skin tone and texture

Benefit #5:

Your skin will feel naturally hydrated and toned

Benefit #6:

You will feel no after-effects whatsoever.
